

Work From Home (WFH) Policy

Purpose

Interlynx provides limited work-from-home flexibility for eligible employees. This policy defines the guidelines, conditions, and procedures for requesting and recording remote work days.

Eligibility

- Not applicable to employees currently on joining probation
- Not applicable to employees serving their notice period/ Performance Improvement Plan

WFH Usage Limits

- Employees are allowed to avail up to three (3) WFH calendar month.
- Unused WFH days cannot be carried forward to the next month.

Request and Approval Process

- All work-from-home requests must be approved in advance via phone call with the employee's direct supervisor or manager.
- Manager approval is mandatory. The manager reserves the right to decline a request if physical presence in the office is necessary due to business requirements.
- Approved WFH days must be recorded in the attendance tracking system prior to the remote workday.

WFH Exceptions

Requests that exceed the monthly limit may be considered under the following circumstances:

- Providing care for a dependent or seriously ill family member
- Personal illness or mandatory quarantine in accordance with health guidelines
- Temporary medical immobility (e.g., post-surgical recovery, injury)

All exception requests are subject to management approval and may require appropriate supporting documentation.

Working Hours & Expectations

- Employees are expected to be fully available and responsive during standard working hours through official communication channels (phone, email, internal messaging).
- Standard levels of productivity and timely completion of deliverables are expected during WFH
- Engaging in non-work-related activities or taking up external employment during WFH is strictly prohibited.
- Employees must ensure that confidential company data is not accessed or discussed in public or unsecured environments.

Policy Review and Amendments

- The company reserves the right to review, update, or modify the Work from Home Policy at its sole discretion at any time, without prior notice. Any changes will be communicated appropriately and will be effective as per the date of issuance
- This policy has been formulated through discussions with designated staff members and has been reviewed and approved with the consensus of staff members. The provisions outlined herein reflect mutual understanding and agreement, and shall be deemed effective from the date of implementation.
